

PEDICULOSIS (HEAD LICE)

When an active case of head lice is noted, staff will inform the building administrator or designee when signs and/or symptoms are apparent. The building administrator or designee will immediately inform the Superintendent and the School Nurse, if available, and s/he or an experienced staff member will evaluate the student and follow approved procedures. A determination as to whether the child may stay in school or be sent home will be made.